British Retreat in Malaya

Hitler Boasts of Sub Attacks Against U. S.

'Shall See What Can Be Achieved,' Fuehrer Says in War Review

BERLIN — (AP)— Adolf Hitler in his first speech since the declaration of war on the United States told the German people Friday that "America's war with Japan made us free to act" and "now we shall see what U-boats may achieve."

He said, "I do not know whether the war will end this year but we are armed against everything from the north to the south."

Hitler said that on the eastern front "the battle against the weather—not the Russians" and claimed that the front there had finally been stabilized.

He said of the Russian war thus far—"In the east we fought a struggle which one day will be the glory of our nation."

Cheers greeted the statement that General Rommel's forces in North Africa turned around "at the moment our enemies thought he was beaten and drove the British before him."

"The most difficult part is behind us," he said.

He said "winter has been the great hope of our enemies in the east but this hope never will be fulfilled. The winter will break in the south and it will melt and the hour will come when the ground will be hard and firm again—and our armies will storm ahead again. The revenge will come."

BERLIN — (AP)— Speaking for the first time since the declaration of war against the United States, Adolf Hitler assailed President Roosevelt and Prime Minister Churchill Friday and declared that excepting his Axis partners Germany was now fighting a new World war against the same old foes.

In most of his address Hitler reiterated of the old argument that Germany was being persecuted. He said even in the last war Churchill was among the English war mongers and that Roosevelt was the right hand man of Woodrow Wilson who he described as the man who caused the greatest harm to the German people.

Addressing party members, soldiers, and representatives of other Axis powers in Berlin Hitler declared "all of us who can remember the last war remember Churchill. Already then he was one of the meanest war mongers. It is those same powers we are fighting today."

He was introduced by Propaganda Minister Goebbels who complimented the Fuehrer for looking so fresh and healthy.

Hitler recalled that at the time of the last war "Germany was a monarchy and the war was forced upon her."

Today Germany is not a monarchy but our same enemies say it is the system they are fighting.

"We have not wished to force our system upon others."

England which claims to be a democracy has forced her rule upon 300 million Indians. Throughout centuries she has subjected one people after another.

"Ever since it has been their aim to maintain that rule by preventing any other nation in Europe from rising."

First Pictures of Oil Field Today

The Star today publishes a layout of pictures of the new oil field south of Hope, including the Barnsdall Oil company's Bond No. 1 discovery well and the crew who brought it in as a big-time gusher. Anyone wishing to mail out extra copies should make reservations at The Star office, 212-14 South Walnut street, at once. Mailing lists may be placed with the newspaper and copies will be sent out from this office. The price including postage is 5c per copy.

Barnsdall Oil Company Brings in Bond No. 1 as 15,000-Barrel Wildcat, and the World's Newest Oil Field Is Developing Just South of Hope DISCOVERY WELL — Barnsdall Oil Company's Bond No. 1, about 13 miles south of Hope, just over the line in LaFayette county. The well, producing 39 gravity oil, is rated at 15,000 barrels a day, but cut down by the pro-ratoning laws.

THE HEAD GUY — Here is M. B. Thomas, tool-pusher for the J. I. Roberts Drilling company, who supervised the drilling of the discovery well, and under whom eight more Barnsdall tests are going down now.

THE CREW WHO BROUGHT HER IN — Left to right: Fred Sayers, I. D. Myers, F. M. Cowley, Harold Newton, and R. L. Hixon, driller, all of the J. I. Roberts Drilling company, Shreveport. This picture was taken after they had moved off the discovery well and were working on the Roberts No. 1 Bond, east offset to the initial well.

THE ROAD TO RICHES — Here is a section of the Barnsdall Oil company's private plank road, leading out from the end of the gravel road south of Patmos to the drilling area. A Star representative made the trip into the field January 28 with S. W. Cobb, of the office of J. A. Fletcher, superintendent of the Barnsdall operations here. Mr. Fletcher maintains offices in Hotel Barlow, and has just bought a home in Hope.

Pension Money Put Into Bonds

Hope Firemen Invest Retirement Pay in Defense

Hope's firemen have voted to put $4,000 of a total of $5,000 on hand in their pension and relief fund into National Defense bonds, Mayor Albert Graves announced Friday.

The firemen met this week and decided to put their reserve fund to work for patriotic purposes, the mayor said.

The pension and relief fund accumulates under a state law placing a tax of one-half of one per cent on fire insurance premiums paid in Arkansas.

What Oil Men Have to Have Roads, Telephones, and Homes

Barnsdall Oil company's discovery of a new oil field south of us poses some vital questions for Hope, her leaders, her people, and all those who do business here.

The petroleum business moves faster than anything else on earth.

Oil men need roads to get place on, need big-city telephone facilities, and, as the field grows, become the city's largest purchasers of new homes.

Hope and Hempstead county have already moved to improve the road situation, the Chamber of Commerce sponsoring a county-constructed gravel road south of Patmos to the

54 Jap Ships Damaged, Sunk

Dutch Claim Ship a Day in Pacific Battlegrounds

BATAVIA — (AP)— Fifty-four Japanese ships have been sunk or heavily damaged (official correction) in 54 days of Pacific war by the Netherlands East Indies navy and airforce, it was announced Friday as Dutch regular army units and guerilla detachments battled the invaders in four separated parts of the island.

The staggering total of losses inflicted on the Japanese shipping by the Dutch alone was announced in an

Fighting Now Only 18 Miles From Singapore

Navy Announces 20 Axis Subs Sunk or Damaged by U. S. Forces

Bulletin
NEW YORK — (AP)— Three and perhaps more Axis submarines were sighted close to the New Jersey coast Friday, the Third Naval District headquarters announced.

By the Associated Press
Japanese invasion hordes stormed within 18 miles of Singapore Friday hurling 90,000 troops into a bloody climatic assault to snatch at the 400 million dollar "crown jewel" of Britain's far Pacific stronghold.

As the battle thundered nearer to the mile wide Johore strait separating Singapore island from the Malayan mainland the British headquarters acknowledged the gravity of the situation.

"In the central front there was contact with the enemy about Kulai," the communique said tersely. Kulai is 18 miles north of the great naval base and lies on a broad highway leading to Singapore causeway at Johore Bahru. The causeway already has been mined for demolition.

4 Indies Attack

Across the south China sea Dutch troops were reported to be locked in bitter fighting with other Japanese invaders in four widely separated zones of the Indies Archipelago—at Balikpapan, on the east Borneo coast, above Pontianak chief port in western Borneo, on the Minahassa Peninsula in North Celebes Island, and around Kendari in Southeast Celebes.

Fighting not only continues near Balikpapan but in the town itself, the Dutch said.

Indies troops previously destroyed Balikpapan rich oil fields before the Japanese landed.

A Philippine bulletin reported only light fighting on Batan Peninsula in the past 24 hours but added:

"The arrival of fresh Japanese troops at the front and movement behind the lines indicated preparation by the enemy for the resumption of a large scale offensive of more than 200,000 Japanese troops including an entire army now besieging General Douglas MacArthur's little defense forces for 28 days on Batan Island.

Conflicting Claims

While the Japanese thrust Octopus-like invasion tentacles deeper into the South Seas a special bulletin from the German command said Nazi U-boats operating off the U. S. and Canada coast sunk 43 ships totaling 302,000 tons since the war started with the United States.

German claims—adding 13 ships totaling 74,000 tons to previous announcements—was far in excess of anything reported here. While figures put the total at 14 Washington quarters conceded that a new wave of U-Boat attacks on American and Canadian shipping was likely despite U. S. counter blows which already have sunk or damaged at least 20 Axis submarines.

"Enemy submarines continue to operate off the east coast of the U. S. and are reported as far south as Florida," a Navy communique said.

Utilization of Sour Gas Seen

Desulphurization Plant Going Up in McKame Field

EL DORADO, Ark. — Almost complete utilization of south Arkansas sour gas in connection with various new development projects is expected at an early date but there is no danger of a shortage and reserves are ample to supply all projected war industries and other plants, including those for making synthetic rubber and plastics, in the opinion of engineers of the Arkansas Oil & Gas Commission.

Gas production in the state now is 117,156,000 cubic feet and while 100,000,000 feet are earmarked as "contracted," the engineers point out that present fields are fully capable of producing upwards of 150,000,000 cubic feet daily and estimate that the new Midway field in Lafayette county will add about 25,000,000 cubic feet daily to the total.

Included in the figure listed as under contract is the gas that eventually may be used in connection with erection of two steam generating power plants, and war industries in various parts of the state, including the aluminum plant at Lake

Sunday School Lesson

Jesus' Call to Fishermen as Disciples Proved to Be of Great Significance Text: Luke 5:1-11

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, D. D.
Editor of Advance

Our lesson about the calling of four disciples records the miracle of the miraculous draught of fish, but its great significance is a more wonderful miracle that has had to do with all the centuries since Jesus came to earth.

This is the miracle that Galilean fishermen should have been called to the highest honor and service to which anyone could have been called, namely, to be among the inner circle of disciples whom we call the Twelve Apostles. And if one looked for a corresponding miracle, it would be the fact that these simple fishermen obeyed the call when no great glory and honor were attached to it but when Jesus assured them that He could offer them only hardship and sacrifice.

It is true the disciples may have had their hearts and eyes filled with the vision of the Messiah who was to set up a kingdom upon earth, but it is doubtful whether at this time that full vision had come to them. It is probable they left their nets and followed Jesus because they believed in this remarkable Teacher. They were amazed alike at His sayings and His character. He brought to them the glow of a great spiritual dream, and because they were worthy they responded to that vision.

We call them simple fishermen, but that is perhaps a little misleading. They were something more than fishermen, just as Paul was something more than a tentmaker. Jewish boys were brought up with the wholesome idea that work was honorable. The Jews also had a remarkable system of education in which virtually every Jewish boy was trained in the law and tradition of his religion.

We must not, therefore, think of these fishermen as unlettered men. It is true they may not have had the learning of the schools. They may not have had even the advantages of education which honored Paul to quote from the Grecian poets. But they were men undoubtedly well versed in religion, and they were men with a deep sense of spiritual values and with that vision of a world recreated in righteousness and truth, which has often been denied to the great but which has been the privilege of the lowly.

We must not, therefore, think of these fishermen as unlettered men. It is true they may not have had the learning of the schools. They may not have had even the advantages of education which honored Paul to quote from the Grecian poets. But they were men undoubtedly well versed in religion, and they were men with a deep sense of spiritual values and with that vision of a world recreated in righteousness and truth, which has often been denied to the great but which has been the privilege of the lowly.

The lesson indicates the extent to which Jesus had already become a popular teacher, with the multitudes of First Corinthians. The public is cordially invited to all services of First Baptist Church.

Citizens Told of Duty in War

State, County, Local Police Know Their Duty

By JACK STINNETT

WASHINGTON — If state, county and local police in this country are not prepared for a national emergency, whether it's simply conveying motorized troop movements through their respective halliwicks or handling an all-out air raid and gas attack, it won't be because they have not already been told.

No sooner had the United States gotten into World War II, than the Federal Bureau of Investigation jumped into print with its "FBI Law Enforcement Bulletin" with everything it had been able to learn from first-hand observation of the activities and responsibilities of police in bomb-pocked England.

Some of this information, through the national and local office of civilian defense, has already been made public, but much of it hasn't and some that hasn't is of more than passing interest.

For example, sandbagging has always been considered a pretty efficient defense precaution. The FBI points out that it is only so temporarily. Bags rot, the sand washes out, the protective wall collapses. Besides, it has been found in London that they become ideal homes for a legion of rats.

More permanent and far more satisfactory in the matter of protection are offset, brick walls, 14-inches thick, constructed so as to form a maze a round the protected area. These "blast walls," as they are called, now are being used on many important police stations and other buildings in England.

Baffle board and steel or steel-faced shutters, with ventilating arrangements, are far more effective for ground floor windows and doors of public buildings that have to be used 24 hours a day (such as police stations) than any other blackout arrangements.

Every police force should have a number of trained reserves equalling at least 30 per cent of its total personnel. All public buildings in constant use should have hurricane oil lamps in case the usual electrical sources are interrupted.

No police force should worry about the organization of an armed home guard. Such home guards in England are equipped with rifles which, because of their long barrels, are not capable of concealment, and thus do not fall under the "concealed weapons" laws.

In England, every person in the land has had to register, is subject to challenge by police, and upon such challenge must present his identification. Such a drastic measure has not yet been considered in this country.

thronging so to her Him. It was a remarkable congregation and a very remarkable pulpit, but these fishermen who were called that day were to see times when the multitude had turned away and when the mission of their Lord and Master had become one of great sorrow and suffering. It was two disciples in this call, James and John, who when Jesus asked, "Are ye able to drink of the cup that I shall drink of, and to be baptized with?" answered, "We are able." Perhaps they did not know all they were to face but they proved true and worthy disciples, and even Peter, in his lapse into denial of his Lord, wept bitterly and returned to the strength of his earthly faith and consecration.

Famous Choir to Sing Here

Will Give Special Program at Methodist Church

The famous Morningside College A Cappella Choir, one of the country's earliest unaccompanied singing organizations, which will arrive here in Hope on February 8 to perform under the auspices of the choir of the First Methodist Church, will bring to this city an evening of choral music long to be remembered.

The reputation which precedes them wherever they go is the result of a sincere striving for perfection. Added to this is the great appeal which sacred music of exalted character always makes.

Critics invariably comment upon the freshness and beauty of these young voices. Trained with the highest ideals of choral technique as their goal, they respond as a great human organ to the demands of their director. From emotional grandeur to the faintest hush of a delicate pianissimo the transition is always skillful and effortless.

No admission charge... freewill offering.

men say Hope has access to the direct Tulsa wire only when Texarkana isn't using it.

This has got to be changed. It is imperative that the Southwestern Bell Telephone company put Hope on a par with Texarkana immediately. Lack of prompt long-distance service would kill off our chance to be the seat of this new oil boom quicker than anything else one can think of.

Several of the oil men already have bought homes in Hope. We extend them greetings, and the pledge that our community will do everything the oil industry can rightly expect a city to do to help promote what looks like the biggest oil strike in years.

On the Temptation to Talk

We may not have enough planes, tanks, or ships, but there's one thing we've plenty of, ba-n-by, and that's talk.

Shortage of tin, shortage of rubber shortage of scrap, but a tremendous surplus of verbiage. Words, words, words!

Words are good things in their places, especially if they be the right words. We deal in words ourselves. But after all, that's our business and we have nothing more important to do.

As much cannot be said for members of the cabinet and the chairmen of important congressional committees. They are presumed to have something much more important to do. When their words, in addition to being gratuitous, are definitely harmful, one wonders whether it might not be a good time to start rationing.

Within 48 hours recently, Chairman Connally of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee and Secretary of the Navy Frank Knox sounded off in speeches and statements which caused misunderstandings and ill feeling abroad. In neither case, as far as we can see, was comment absolutely required.

Secretary Knox will give us a victory speech, the country will be eternally grateful to him. It is quite enough of a job for a man's full time. General policies of grand strategy can be announced from time to time as required, by those who make them; speeches are a dime a dozen. Senator Connally will learn, perhaps is learning now, that foreign relations are not well conducted by offhand riffs whipped up to please casual interviewers.

Is it not enough of a job to win a war? Can men charged with responsibility in the war effort spare time to go gadding about the country making speeches to every half-full of luncheon guests who send them a telegram? Does every passing event call for comment from any official who is asked for it? Is not the collective national supply of verbiage getting out of proportion to the amount of action?

It is true that the people need to be informed of the purposes, and as far as military necessity permits, of the plans and activities of their government. It is true that discussion and criticism are proper. But the national morale does not depend on a continual stream of talk like a boiler with a stoker underneath. Confidence in officials and in the government will be at least as great if it is known that they are working hard and silently at their jobs as it will if they are making speeches and issuing statements.

It goes right down to the most ordinary of us. The job is here to do. We know what it is and what it means. Let's not be speeded up and it may be retarded by continually talking about it.

Less talk; more action. Fewer words; more bullets.

Try the clearing-up help of Black and White Ointment's antiseptic action. Help lessen pain's ugly effect on looks. To remove grime, oily film, use mild superfatted Black and White Skin Soap.

'Nothing But the Truth' to Bring Bob Hope Hilarity

Super Comedy Returns to Rialto Theater Sunday and Monday

When Bob Hope makes a bet of $10,000 that he can tell the truth for twenty-four hours, you can bet considerably more than the price of admission to the Rialto Theatre, that what will follow will be high-speed, gag-glorious comedy.

Hope makes the wager in the new Paramount farce comedy, "Nothing But the Truth," which gambols into the Rialto Theatre beginning Sunday, co-starring Paulette Goddard, and featuring a comedy cast packed solid with favorite names, including Edna Arnold, Lief Erickson, Helen Vinson, Catharine Droege, Glenn Anders, Grant Mitchell, Rose Hobart and Willie Best. An added recommendation is the fact that the new laugh-crisp was directed by Elliott Nugent, comedy-wise director of one of the two previous Hope-Goddard adventures.

es into the laugh sphere, "The Cat and the Canary."

Right now Hope is just about tops in film comedy, following sock-successes in such comedies as "Road to Singapore," "Road to Zanzibar" and "Caught in the Draft." His film following has been increasing by leaps and bounds with each new picture, until no wisecracker as a comedian is almost undisputed. As for Paulette Goddard, that young lady has been shuttling back and forth between comedy and drama the past few seasons.

The beautiful star recently was seen opposite Charles Chaplin in "The Great Dictator," as Fred Astaire's dancing partner in "Second Chorus," and then as the unrepentant girl-of-the-world of Hold Back the Dawn, in which she appeared with Charles Boyer and Olivia de Havilland. In the last mentioned film, Paulette went almost completely dramatic, in contrast to the many comedy roles she has played, two with Bob Hope. These roles with Hope were in "The Cat and the Canary" and "The Ghost Breakers."

"Nothing But the Truth," which is adapted to the screen from a famous stage comedy, concerns itself with a bet made by Bob Hope, in the role of a stockbroker, that he can tell the truth for twenty-four hours. Sounds like great fun!

Boys Will Be Boys

BALTIMORE—(AP)—Eighty-year-old John Hopkins was just out having fun with boys in the neighborhood—throwing snowballs in the first snowstorm of the year—when he was hit by an automobile. Patrolmen sent Hopkins to a hospital for treatment of minor injuries, and said he should be more careful.

Fines of 200 speeders arrested in a Nashville, Tenn., suburb were turned over to the infantile paralysis fund. That's coming through in a pinch.

Bengasi Lost British Admit

London Fears British Force Trapped in Libya

CAIRO—(AP)—The sudden sweep of strong Axis columns around Bengasi and heavy frontal attacks by greatly superior forces compelled the Indian defenders of the port to withdraw after putting up a stubborn fight, the British acknowledge Friday.

The British Middle East command said attacks by superior forces which included tanks, necessitated the second British withdrawal from Bengasi in less than a year.

The Middle East command said British patrols in the Musus area, 70 miles southeast of Bengasi forced Axis patrols to withdraw.

In London there was a strong possibility that some of the British forces had been cut off and trapped in Bengasi was seen by informed sources studying the reports from the North African front.

This report was based on the wording of communications which said the stronger of two Axis assault forces had established itself two days ago across the coast road north of the Cyrenaican capital.

German and Italian communiques Thursday announced the recapture of Bengasi.

Price Control Bill Made Law

President Signs Bill but Doubts Its Wisdom

WASHINGTON—(AP)—President Roosevelt, in signing the price control bill Friday, declared that it "does not mean that the battle against inflation has been won" and expressed doubt as to the wisdom and necessity of certain sections.

Earlier at a press conference he praised all sections except those relating to farm prices saying the provision permitting farm prices to rise to 110 per cent parity before the ceiling could be applied was not so good as being tended to raise the cost of living.

In a formal statement he declared that the price control legislation alone could not successfully combat inflation.

54 Jap Ships

authoritative summary made available to the official news agency Aneta. This one-day average, of course, does not include losses inflicted on the Japanese by American, British and Australian action which was considerable in itself.

The Dutch list of sunk or damaged Japanese ships included: One battleship, ten cruisers, 25 transports, four being troop ships and the fifth a passenger liner, seven destroyers, one seaplane tender, three tankers, one freighter, a cargo ship and five other vessels.

Informed sources said the Japanese could not stand such losses in the long run and that they apparently were willing to accept even greater casualties in an effort to consolidate strategic positions in the Indies and to knock out Singapore before the Allies could bring in reinforcements.

Utilization

Catherine. The McKemie Gas Cleaning corporation has let contract for erection of a desulfurization plant in the McKemie field, and it is understood that 30,000,000 cubic feet of gas daily will be marketed through existing gas company facilities for various projects in the state, including possibly the proposed REA generating plant at Camden and the proposed plant of the Arkansas Power and Light company.

Officials of the Arkansas Natural Gas company have stated their plans are not definite enough at this time to make a statement, but it is understood the firm is seeking contracts from operators in the Macedonin and Dorcheat field in connection with plans for a desulfurization plant for cleaning sour gas to be supplied to defense projects. Officials of the Arkansas Power & Light Co. said they could make no statement at this time as to their generating plant.

Nearly all of the gas from the Shuler field is being used in the repressuring project there, along with some gas from the Village, Atlanta and Magnolia fields, while other gas is being used for pumping fuel in the Snackover and El Dorado fields, as plant fuel for refineries, for drilling in some fields and for gas-lift operations in the Buckner field. Engineers say there is no waste of gas in the Magnolia field, all of it being handled through the Shell gasoline extraction plant and the Lion desulfurization plant.

Arkansas is taking the lead among oil producing states in making wide use of gas containing such large quantities of hydrogen sulphide and exterminants are being made whereby the gas may be further processed either for the manufacture of sulphur or various sulphur compounds.

Twin Delight

Try serving those inseparable twins—bacon and eggs—a new way. For each egg use one slice of bread, lightly buttered on both sides. Place on a slice of American cheese (or substitute your favorite type).

Separate the yolks from the whites, whipping the whites to a stiff meringue. Put a fluffy ring of stiff egg white completely around the bread, leaving a hollow center in which to drop the egg yolk. Place a half strip of bacon over each side of egg white and broil a few minutes until bacon is as crisp as you like it.

effect, Leon Henderson and all his thousands of Price Administration employees are going to be the most unpopular people in the country. They will be the dictators, the commissars, the gauleiters, the fellows who put the squeeze on big and little businessmen who want to make a little money.

Farm Prices Now Near Parity. If, on the other hand, all prices were frozen as of some given date, then no one could squawk. Farm prices are now hovering around parity and the relationship between agricultural prices and industrial prices is in general about what it was in the good years, the almost normal years of 1926 and 1937. Wages are better than in those years and there is more employment. Prices have advanced sufficiently to stimulate production.

With prices and wages frozen at present levels, the function of the Office of Price Administration would be to grant price increases in specific industries where relief was found necessary. And it would be up to the leaders in each line of business to prove the need for any upward revision of prices before it could be granted, instead of t'other way around.

A War Message From The Treasury Department

IT'S YOUR MOVE NOW

THE MORE BONDS YOU BUY...THE MORE PLANES WILL FLY

This Axis War upon us is a matter of life or death for America, your free America! Now, as never before in all our glorious history, our Army, Navy and Marine Corps urgently need planes, tanks, ships and guns!

Literally billions of dollars are needed immediately to produce these and other weapons of defense . . . of offense . . . and of Victory! They must be produced now! The money must be secured now! Let's do it the voluntary way, the American Way, the Defense Bond way!

If we are to smash the enemy out of our seas and blast him from the air over our heads, every dollar you can spare, every dime that is not absolutely required for the necessities of food, clothing, and shelter should be, yes, must be, loaned to your Government!

We must act fast. Start getting your share of United States Defense Bonds and Stamps today. Get them regularly, day after day, week after week. If you have already bought a Bond, now is the time to get more!

Remember, every Bond you buy is a blow at the military maniacs attacking us—that every dollar you invest will come back to you with interest on that brighter, happier day when Victory is ours, and there is peace again throughout the world.

Fill in this form right now, and take it to your local Bank, Post Office, Savings and Loan Association, or mail it with check or money order to Treasurer of United States, Washington, D. C. If mailed to Treasurer, be sure to add name and address of beneficiary and co-owner, if any, and indicate address to which bonds are to be mailed. Yes, I'll do my part to help win the war. I pledge myself to buy U. S. Defense Bonds as checked below, and will do my utmost to buy the same number regularly at the following intervals:

What's the interest rate? When held to maturity, the Bonds yield 2.9% per year on your investment, compounded semiannually—you get $1 for every $3.

Where do I go to buy a Bond? To your local Bank, Post Office, Savings and Loan Association, or other Defense Bond Agency.

What about Defense Stamps? Buying Defense Stamps is a convenient way of saving money with which to buy a real Defense Bond. Stamps are sold for as little as 10¢.
